Dear Editor:

Stories have doubtless reached you as to the large number of refugees coming into the United States. These stories have greatly exaggerated the extent of the refugee problem. Because of the importance of learning the truth, we went to the Immigration and Naturalization Service of the United States Department of Labor for the actual data.

We have also investigated what kind of people they are who are now coming to our shores under circumstances strongly reminiscent of those under which so many of our own ancestors came. Our findings are brought together in the enclosed booklet, "Refugee Facts." As lovers of the truth, this pamphlet is our answer to those partisan propagandists who have substituted fiction for fact, emotion for reason.

In sending you this publication, we have no axe to grind - no theory or dogma to support. We are merely anxious that the American people be given the facts, in the full confidence that when they have those facts they can be trusted to act wisely and humanely. We hope we can count on you to help make these facts better known.

Sincerely yours,

Rufus M. Jones

AMERICAN REFUGEES

If we do not extend humanity's kindnesses and understanding to these people, if we deny them the protection of the Bill of Rights, if we say they may be denied the privilege of living in any of the forty-eight states and force them into concentration camps without hearing or charge of misconduct, then we are tearing down the whole American system.—RALPH L. The Solidarity Campaign for Spain of the International Federation of Trade Unions and the Labour and Socialist International.

Since the last Report published by the International Solidarity Fund about the relief work carried on for Spain by the I.F.T.U. and the L.S.I., this has been continued uninterruptedly in all countries, and consignments of food have continually been sent to Spain. The campaign was especially developed during the last weeks of the heroic fight for Bilbao, Santander and the Asturias. Since then the whole of the relief work has been concentrated in Madrid, Valencia and Barcelona. In addition, the International Solidarity Fund of the I.F.T.U. and L.S.I. continues to bear the running expenses of the international hospital in Onteniente.

A new intensive campaign has now been initiated in nearly all countries, and this will undoubtedly be still further favoured by the great exploit of the Republican Army on Teruel.

In addition to the sixty-three convoys listed up till the end of December the following consignments are now on the way or have already arrived at their destinations: (64) forty tons of condensed milk; (65) thirty tons of ham; (66) twenty-five tons of condensed milk; (67) two ambulances and ten tons of material for the Onteniente international hospital; (68) six million cigarettes for the International Brigade and civil population; (69) eighty tons of sugar; (70) twenty-two tons of dried cod, bacon and corned beef, 28½ tons of soap, five tons of lentils; (71) seventy-four tons of condensed milk; (72) eighty thousand packets for the children of Barcelona, Madrid and Valencia; (73) ten tons of spare parts for lorries and ambulances of the Spanish Relief Committee (I.F.T.U./L.S.I.). Up till now more than 26.300.000 French francs have been expended.

The Battle of Teruel.

By General Julius Deutsch.

Barcelona, January 14th, 1938

With the surrender of the rebel garrison of Teruel the battle for this town, which has raged for more than three weeks, has, for the time being, come to a rest. The planning, carrying through and outcome of this, the biggest pitched battle of the Spanish civil war, justify a retrospective appraisal.

Teruel had been in the hands of the rebels since the beginning of the civil war. The domination of this town was of great importance to Franco for it lies well forward in Republican territory and threatens the coastal road which links Valencia with Barcelona. With Teruel as a base it seemed possible to undertake a successful attack against the Levant coast and by this means to cut Republican Spain in two. If this attack to the landward were combined with

THE DEVELOPMENT OF SOCIALISM FROM SCIENCE TO PRACTICE.

#16

What is Communism? To this question, Engels in his draft of the Communist Manifesto in the year 1847 gave the following answer:—

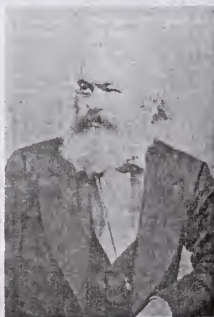

Communism is a statement of the conditions necessary to secure the triumph of the working class in agreement with this explanation, which already at that early date breathed the spirit of scientific Socialism, the work of Marx and Engels consists primarily in this: In the development of capitalist society they sought to discover the conditions which would enable the working class to attain victory, in order that from the ground so prepared Communism in actual practice might presently be thereupon accomplished.

The precursors of Marx and Engels, the Utopian Socialists, had achieved a great work so far as that concerned the characterisation and the criticism of our bourgeois society. The fiery Fourier, who exposed all its shame and scourged it; the fanciful but brilliant Samuel Simon, who, with half a dozen works, lit up as it were by lightning whole epochs of the history of mankind; Owen, who tenderly yet deeply explored the nature of man and showed us both in writing and in speech how greatly that nature is influenced by economic factors. These men all laid the foundation stones of the grand edifice of scientific Socialism. Independently of them, the work of Marx is inconceivable. Yet with all their penetrating criticism of the capitalist State, what the forerunners of Marx failed to discern, however, were the forces at work within that society itself—the forces that would ultimately cause its overthrow. Therefore, they were obliged to play the part of an historic providence, and to elaborate a plan for the saving of mankind out of the clutch of capitalism, a plan whose only weakness was that the architect destined to rear the temple of mankind towering to the sky had no existence. Marx and Engels showed, as a result of the increase of the powers of production under capitalism, that the masses were being brought deeper and ever deeper into anarchy and slavery, and that at the same time, through the concentration of industry, of a strong working class, concentrat-

ORIGIN AND DEVELOPMENT OF THE AUSTRALIAN LABOR MOVEMENT

121 HAIGHT STREET
SAN FRANCISCO, CALIF.
11/14
JAM LKT

(An extract taken from an article written by R. Dixon in 1934.)

The working-class movement in this country was influenced enormously in its development by the ideas, methods of struggle and organization of the British workers, for as Lenin correctly stated, Australia was an "undeveloped, young country populated by liberal English workers." In view of this it is necessary to briefly examine the peculiarities of British capitalism which led to the penetration of bourgeois ideas into the working class and also to note the different situation in Australia.

The causes and the effects of the domination of opportunism in the British labor movement are summarised by Lenin as follows:

"The causes are (1) Exploitation of the whole world by this country; (2) its monopolistic position in the world market; (3) its colonial monopoly. The effects are: (1) The transformation of a section of the British workers into the middle class; (2) the opportunity of leading it which part of the working class accord to a section corrupted by the capitalist class, or at least paid by it." ("Imperialism," p. 89-90.)

This was the exceptional position England occupied in the second half of the last century. The very development of Imperialism, however, as a world system was already leading to the undermining of Britain's favorable monopolistic position towards the end of last century. As a result there was taking place a progressive narrowing of the basis of the labor aristocracy, and this was accompanied by a growing irreconcilability of opportunism with the general and vital interest of the working class.

Lenin closely observed and analysed these facts, and arrived at the important conclusion that:

"Opportunism can, therefore, no longer triumph in the working-class of any country for long decades, as was the case in England in the second half of the nineteenth century." ("Imperialism," p. 90.)

It was from this heavily-laden atmosphere of English Liberalism which sapped the virile fighting strength of the workers, leaving them weak and disorganised, influenced by and subservient to bourgeois politics, that great masses came which were to make the Australian labor movement. This was particularly so following the gold discoveries.

#15

(Reprinted from the "Westralian Worker," July 6, 1945; Official Organ of the Australian Labor Party (Western Australian Branch), formerly edited by John Curtin, Prime Minister of Australia).

WHY ATTACK COMMUNISTS?

The "Westralian Worker" attacks Communism because the aims of the Communist Party are directly opposed to the aims of the Labor Party. Communism desires to establish a dictatorship. Labor desires to establish a complete political, economic and social Democracy. The aims of Communism are, of course, entirely ridiculous, and the Communist Party could be regarded merely as a figure of ridicule were it not for two things: the continuous attempt of the Communist Party to identify itself with the Labor Movement and the willingness of some within the Labor Movement to assist the Communist Party in this direction.

The Communist Party has for long protested against the attacks of this and other Labor papers. Latterly the protests of the Communists have been reinforced by protests from within the Labor Movement. "Why attack Communists?" they ask. "There are only a few of them, in any case, and we can always deal with them when we want to."

But they never seem to want to deal with them, and Communist infiltration continues.

Laborites who ask this question might not be Communists, but they most certainly are not good Laborites. Strangely enough they claim to be progressives, but Labor's progress over the years has not been achieved by association with other political parties. It has been achieved by a rigid adherence to the policy agreed upon and to the principles for which Labor stands. And Communist policy, in the framing of which rank and file members of the party have no voice, bears no resemblance to the policy of the Labor Party, and its only principle is that the end justifies the means.

Those who ask: "Why attack the Communists?" are a greater menace to the Labor Party and to the democratic progress of Australia than the Communist Party itself. They are giving to Mr. Menzies and his followers the evidence of Communist-Labor association that he must have if the Liberal Party is to win at the next elections. The selection of a Communist in the person of Mr. Thornton to represent Australian workers overseas is going to mean many votes to the Liberal Party at the next election.

Every time a Communist claims to speak on behalf of the Labor Party, and many Communists are now doing this, more votes are lost to Labor. Communist "support" is a liability that Labor cannot afford, and Laborites who fail to take action against Communist infiltration are selling the pass to the enemy.

And for what are they selling it? In some cases for cheap applause; in other cases because these "progressives" believe that they are helping their own individual progress, even to a seat in Parliament.

There is only one way of advancement in the Labor Movement, and that way is the straight way. The man with a foot in two camps might prosper for a while, but only for a while. Before long there comes a time when he must make it clear where he stands. Many have tried the crooked way, but none has escaped the inevitable showdown.

The place of the person who believes that Communist policy is as good as or better than Labor policy is in the Communist Party. It is true that in that party he has no prospect of gaining a seat in Parliament, but this is a sacrifice he should be prepared to make to accord with his convictions. A sincere Communist, misguided as he must be, is preferable to a man who will use the Labor Party as a means of personal advancement while holding views not in accordance with Labor policy.

How communists opposed our war effort

BY A SPECIAL CORRESPONDENT

Communists are exhibiting in Sydney the printing plant upon which they illegally produced their journal, "Tribune," during the period when their party was under a ban as an unlawful organisation, whose existence was prejudicial to the defence of the Commonwealth.

The real nature and motives of their policy during this period can best be illustrated by quotations from their own publication.

DURING the dark days of 1940 and early 1941, when the blitz on Britain was at its worst and the Empire stood alone against the Nazis and Fascists, the Communists in Australia worked for our defeat. They were our fifth columnists; their leaders, like Sharkey and Miles—who still lead them to-day—were at that time the Australian Quislings.

From the outbreak of war in September, 1939, the Australian Communist Party confessed itself a branch of the Comintern, and acted as a Soviet agent. Therefore, when, some weeks after the declaration of war, the party received its instructions from Dimitroff in Moscow to sabotage the Allied war effort, our Communists did not hesitate to obey. After all, Russia and Germany were partners, and it was the duty of the Australian Communists to work for our defeat.

A general policy of strategic disruption was adopted, and was intensified as British disasters gave courage to our enemies at home. Finally, when France was collapsing, and Britain was in grave danger, the treacherous activities of the Communists became so flagrant that the Government outlawed the party. The last legal issue of their paper, "The Tribune," appeared on May 24, 1940, and the first illegal issue (printed on the machine which is now on view in Sydney) appeared on July 29 of that year.

"Imperialist War"

This first illegal issue is typical. It is devoted to the main proposition that "the present war of Britain, supported by the United States, with Germany and Italy is an imperialist war," and it quotes with approval the conclusion of the Nazi White Paper that Britain and France were the imperialists mainly responsible. It calls on its supporters to disregard the "beatings of the British Government, which was merely defending its imperialist interests," and to "continue to fight against Italy and Germany," and to sabotage our defence measures.

This issue reserves, however, its most virulent invective for those Australian Labour leaders who have committed the unforgivable crime of supporting the war effort. Curtin is on this account described as "the infamous betrayer of the workers." By contrast, Communist spokesmen are lauded as "the most reliable and the most devoted of the New Nations collaborators in India and the Burmese fraction which subsequently became the Japanese puppet administration of that country."

The party line of July, 1943, is to "conduct a mass fight against conscription—withdraw troops from overseas. Get the A.I.P. home." Combined with this is a programme of industrial disruption and the fomenting of local discontents. (Remember that these things were published at the time when Britain had her back to the wall; when the Dunkirk losses were still unrecapitulated; and when every ounce was needed effort was needed to prevent the Nazis from crossing the Channel.)

These motifs, that emphasised in the initial issue, are developed in subsequent numbers of "Tribune," which unfold the Communist design of sabotaging Australia's defeat. Special emphasis is placed upon the withdrawal of Australian support from Britain. "Our poorest working class men here rightly feel that the hundreds of millions of Europeans are capable of beating Hitler without our killing him. If these Europeans couldn't, they would not be worth saving anyhow" (August 6, 1940).

"Don't be side-tracked from the struggle against capitalism by the snivelling tricksters who aim to stampede you into the fight for their Empire against the German rival. No nation is our enemy" (September 28, 1940).

According to the Australian Communist Party version the Molotov-Ribbentrop Pact, which was signed in Moscow exactly six years ago, was based upon a genuine Nazi-Soviet alliance. For instance, on March 21, 1941, "Tribune" wrote: "To enter the war is what the British Imperialists want Soviet Russia to do. If this were done against Germany, it occupies German might and opens new prospects for a switch, for a British-American victory, recovering control of France and other countries. So-called friends of the Soviet Russia, who on any pretext think she could enter the war, play the game of the imperialist provocateurs, the capitalist war-mongers."

Labour Men Abused

Abuse of loyal Labour men for their support of the war against the Nazis continued right up to June, 1941, when Hitler turned on Stalin and the Comintern, and their leaders in New South Wales have sold themselves body and soul to the imperialists. That slogan is the last issue and the last shilling for the imperialist war." (September 10, 1940.)

On November 27, 1940, the proletariat was warned against "the lying propaganda about the war, the treachery of the Cur-tin, Pallen, and McShane," who "called for national unity," and "need class peace to wage a reactionary war." In March, 1941, "Tribune" readers were told that "Curtin speaks for Labour Imperialism, for lackeys of the ruling class, who wear a union label."

On January 27, 1941, the story was "with lies about the cause of the war, the Meneses and Curtin try to blacken the masses into unity for the war, into submission to the warmongers. Submission to unity behind Churchill's Meneses, Attlee, and Curtin means submission to war and starvation in the interests of the rich class." There was said to be no real cause for alarm at the Nazi menace, although "Labour leaders suggest because the masses refuse to become involved in the way they want."

On August 27, 1940, a threat of industrial disruption had been made. "The working class will not submit to the labour servants of the capitalist class. Curtin and Co. will either make concessions or find the troubles of themselves, as well as their masters, increased."

"Prepare For Strike"

On December 8, 1940, this war-winning advice was as follows: "Stop buying War Savings Certificates. Buy up the work-shops group. You need all your wits for food, clothing, the home, and the struggle against profiteers. Cut overtime, save your energy for the class struggle. Don't work to get money to hand over to the tax collector. Prepare for strike action if the basic wage decision favours the profiteers. Get ready to strike next January against the taxation wage cuts."

Nor was Britain forgotten. In that same issue, in the words "our London's workers," "With raising, no fruit imports, further cuts in sugar, sky-high fuel prices. Guns before milk, guns before fruit, guns before chocolate, in the latest picture of Britain. Quite a Fascist picture, isn't it?"

No opportunity was lost to diminish the war effort; but there were even more sinister implications. Careful analysis shows that Communist propaganda in the "Tribune" was deliberately timed to interfere with the Middle East campaign, and to prevent United States aid reaching Australia in the event of Japanese aggression.

On January 12, 1941, triumphantly linked with Australian propaganda, the "Tribune" was deliberately timed to interfere with the Middle East campaign, and to prevent United States aid reaching Australia in the event of Japanese aggression.

On May 4, 1941 (the time of Tobruk), "Tribune" commented: "The fact is that in North Africa and the Balkans Italian, German, and Japanese troops (and the Australian) are dying to decide which gang of thieves is to control territory and wealth to which neither has any right."

The issue of March 30, 1941, records with satisfaction "the British failure to induce the United States to take the war in Europe and country into a battlefield for Britain, and the capitulation of the same Government to the interests of the British class." (This was the prelude to Greece.)

On October 3, 1940, the prospect of a German attack on Britain was described as "mortgaging the British Empire to dollar imperialism." Or again, "Imperialism is the reality of the world, the reality of small nations, democracy, and freedom, behind the slogan: 'Ad Hitler's war.'"

"Tribune" of March 29, 1941 (at the time of the visit of the U.S. Fleet to Sydney) expressed disgust at the possibility of American aid to the Allies. "Anticipating that the big men behind Roosevelt had succeeded with their propaganda and other propositions to take the States deeper into war, the plan was to land a fleet in New Zealand waters, and another in Australian waters to coincide with the propaganda about American aid to the 'fight for liberty' etc. etc. The fleets would provide a basis for more intense propaganda for the saving of more millions about the imperialist war. Fadden and Curtin welcome Roosevelt aid, they may need it to defeat the people, who are being deceived."

This article concludes with references to "Roosevelt's recent high-sounding speech," which is characterised as "a speech of a liar, echoed throughout the English-speaking world by liars and scoundrels."

But why so on? There are hundreds of pages of "Tribune" printed on the illegal press and almost every one of them till the end of June, 1941, is directed to our defeat. In fact, they constitute a programme of sabotage, of defeat and defeat by attacking our morale, alienating us from our Allies, and reducing our fighting potential.

Change Overhaul

On June 22, 1941, "Tribune" wrote: "There is not the slightest evidence in all the articles of the enemies of the United Union, who are striving to drive wedges between the U.S.S.R. and Germany, that they are other than friendly and peaceful."

But already Hitler had moved to the attack. "With raising, no fruit imports, further cuts in sugar, sky-high fuel prices. Guns before milk, guns before fruit, guns before chocolate, in the latest picture of Britain. Quite a Fascist picture, isn't it?"

U.S. SEAMEN'S LEADER FLAYS REDS!

"SCABBY, DISRUPTIVE TACTICS"

Horry Lundeberg, President of the Pacific Coast Sailors' Union, U.S.A., recently received a letter from William Z. Foster, Chairman of the U.S. Communist Party, appealing for assistance to fight the Mundt-Nixon anti-Communist Bill.

Lundeberg replied:

"You have a hell of a nerve appealing to a bona fide American Trade Union for help in view of the scabby disruptive tactics employed by your so-called political party against the American Trade Union Movement and against the United States as a whole.

"All through your letter you refer to Fascism, stating that your party is anti-Fascist.

"WHO ARE YOU KIDDING? THERE ARE NO BIGGER FASCISTS THAN THE COMMUNISTS. THE ONLY DIFFERENCE BETWEEN STALIN AND HITLER IS THAT STALIN WENT HITLER ONE BETTER . . . IT WAS THE COMMUNIST PARTY THAT JOINED HANDS WITH THE NAZIS TO BREAK UP THE SOCIALIST PARTY AND THE TRADE UNION MOVEMENT IN GERMANY . . . DON'T TRY TO PROPAGANDISE PEOPLE WHO KNOW THE SCORE.

"As a matter of fact, our organisation classes the Communist Party as an enemy of the working class.

"AS FAR AS WE ARE CONCERNED THEY CAN TAKE THE WHOLE SCABBY, STINKING COMMUNIST PARTY AND KICK IT IN THE MIDDLE OF SIBERIA AND LET IT HAVE A TASTE OF UNCLE JOE STALIN'S SLAVE CAMPS . . . IT IS OUR CONSIDERED OPINION THAT THIS IS A FIT PLACE FOR THE AMERICAN COMMUNIST PARTY, ITS STOOGES, ITS FELLOW-TRAVELLERS—LONG-HAIRED ONES, SHORT-HAIRED ONES—AND WHAT HAVE YOU . . . ?

WORKERS!

You remember the Black Christmas Strike of 1945?

It originated at Marx House, was controlled by Marx House, and was conducted in the interests of the Communist Party.

Marx House has ordered a repeat performance for 1948.

- They have to have a pretext. Using the inter-Union dispute between the Miners' Federation and the A.W.U., in which the Commo leaders of the Miners' Federation are trying to bludgeon bona fide Australian Unionists into the Miners' Federation against their will, Marx House has decreed that all mines must stop operations—if the workers in the Northern fields can be persuaded to play the Commo game.

- We will be thrown out of work!

- There will be no money available to give our wives and families a bit of relaxation at Christmas time! Scores of thousands of workers will be deprived of work, transport, food and gas! You know what that means: empty pockets and stacks of bills.

FOR WHAT?

OSTENSIBLY TO FORCE THE A.W.U. TO CAVE IN, AGAINST ALL UNION PRINCIPLES AND AGAINST THE INTEREST OF THE MEN CONCERNED!

IN REALITY TO SMASH AUSTRALIAN INDUSTRY AND AUSTRALIAN ECONOMY IN THE INTERESTS OF SOVIET FOREIGN POLICY AND RED REVOLUTION HERE.

HIDE BEHIND UNION SKIRTS

Following upon the recent A.C.T.U. Congress, a group of financial members of the Sheetmetal Workers' Union produced—at their own expense—a leaflet criticising a Communist-inspired move to raise Union fees to a minimum of £2 per annum, on the grounds that Unionism in Australia was "too cheap."

(a) We declared that the motion was introduced by Comrade Wright, and supported by Thompson and Coull, two Victorian Commos.

(b) We declared that a protest by Byrne of the A.R.U. about funds being a matter for the Unions concerned was ignored by the Commos.

We stated facts and we state them again!

(c) We asked Comrade Wright to disclose his salary. We wanted to compare it with the income of the average Sheetmetal worker.

We are STILL asking!

Using Union funds, the Executive issued a sheet which distorted the issue and covered us with the usual abuse, but it did not face the real issue.

(1) In the first place, WE DID NOT ATTACK THE UNION; AND WE DID NOT ATTACK THE WORKING CLASS MOVEMENT.

WE ATTACKED THE COMMOS, who are trying to use the Union for the political aims of the Communist Party, and spending Union money on phoney Commo organisations like the Eureka Youth League. Please tell us, Comrades, why you are so anxious to "review" the rule which states that all shops shall be notified of the amount and purpose of proposed donations.

After all, it's our money, and we want a say in how it is spent.

Since when did Commos become the Union or the Working Class Movement? The Labor Movement, representing the vast majority of workers, will have nothing to do with the Commos, who are the stooges of a Foreign Power and the enemy of the worker.

We want to know why Union money is used to defend the Commos.

(2) We are accused of disrupting the Union: which is a malicious lie. We are all financial unionists—and our union records are possibly cleaner than that of Comrade Wright himself.

The real disruptors of the Union are the Communists who want to make our Union a puppet of Marx House. If you doubt our word, read Comrade Sharkey's booklet on the Trade Unions.

While the Commos hypocritically prate about the Unity of the working class, and the strengthening of Trade Unions, they have been working all-out to disrupt the A.W.U., the greatest Union in Australia.

Furthermore, every worker knows the kind of unity the Commos tried to force on the men of Balmain—a tyrannical Commo dictatorship which was fiercely rejected by every democrat in the Branch.

There is only one way to get genuine democratic trade Union unity—and that is to throw the Communists right out.

(3) The Commos tell you that our Committee for Democratic Unionism doesn't exist. It does. Not being willing to be victimised, we are not going to be stampeded into disclosing our identity.

But our supposed non-existence did not prevent Comrade Wright from trying to intimidate the printer to stop him printing our case.

WORKERS, WAKE UP!

Red Treachery !

#27

Workers, be on your guard !

What Communists mean by "strengthening" the Labor Party and the Trade Union Movement was clearly explained by Comrade L. H. Gould in the Sydney Communist Review, issue of March, 1939. (Comrade Gould is now Editor of the Communist "Tribune.")

"Take the period when Lang was practically undisputed leader of the N.S.W. Labor Party, and recall the points of confusion then. Communists called for a strengthening of the A.L.P. Said some people: 'But if we strengthen the A.L.P. we're simply strengthening Langism.'

"This was a mistaken attitude. By the term strengthening we meant only: The development of a militant working-class policy within the ranks of the A.L.P., one that would root out the corrupt bureaucratic 'inner group' domination, organise the struggles of the people for bread, democratic liberty and peace, and that would seek unity with the Communists and all other progressive organisations. It meant in effect the weakening and eventually the eradication of Langism from Labor affairs.

* * * * *

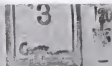

"A second example the trade unions . . . There are many differences between a trade union, the basic class organisation of the workers, and the standing army of capitalism! 'Should revolutionary workers join the reformist trade Unions?' Yes, said Lenin. They must do so in order to wrest control away from the reformist leaders. When the militants joined those unions, and swelled the number of members, they did not thereby strengthen the non-militant leadership. The exact reverse, in fact." — Pp. 167-168. (For reformist read moderate, and you will see what the Comrades mean).

SO THAT'S THE GAME! — WHITE-ANT THE A.L.P. !

The Lifting of the Ban #28

(To the "Wearing of the Green.")

It's quite a while since first the Coms were placed beneath the ban,
And many people thought that they would take it like a man;
But soon the ban began to tell and Coms fell by the way,
They cringed and crawled and crawled till their slogan is to-day.

For the lifting of the ban,
For the lifting of the ban,
We'll swallow all our principles
For the lifting of the ban.

It's true they once supported strikes, they don't do that to-day,
Although once hostile to the war, they've changed the other way,
And now their attitude is such it beggars all description,
They've got so low that now you know, they advocate conscription.

For the lifting of the ban,
For the lifting of the ban,
They advocate conscription
For the lifting of the ban.

To find the cash for wars they said was just a bosses' stunt,
To kid the slaves to lend their dough as well as bear the brunt,
To heap up war loans was to put a burden on posterity,
But now they boost for millions and call the loan "austerity."

For the lifting of the ban,
For the lifting of the ban,
They'd take the money from the slaves
For the lifting of the ban.

In days of old when miners fought against the boss's might,
There was a time when Coms would cry, "The miner's always right!"
But now that Curtin lifts the ban, they say the miner's wrong,
Whatever be the issue now, the Coms all sing this song.

For the lifting of the ban,
For the lifting of the ban,
We'll even dump the miners
For the lifting of the ban.

When seamen fought for better things and took a final stand,
E'en Coms, at times, would cheer the lads as on the wharf they'd land,
But now should seamen stop a ship, the Coms are sure to wail,
Get back aboard, fifth columnists, the ships have got to sail.

For the lifting of the ban,
For the lifting of the ban,
We cannot have a ship stuck up
For the lifting of the ban.

One time the Coms would demonstrate and claim they led the mass,
But now they're marching step by step beside the Master Class,
They've promised to co-operate and win the master's war,
In fact, they're boosting everything they denounced heretofore.

That's why Curtin lifts the ban,
That's why Curtin lifts the ban,
HE'S GOT THE COMS IN THE BAG
That's why he lifts the ban.

Labor Says . . .

Will You Look Inside?

In its last issue before the Christmas holiday period at the end of 1947 the official journal of the Miners' Federation stated:

"We now go on the longest holidays on record, with holiday pay higher than ever before, after having had paid statutory holidays, sick leave, with work much easier than formerly in many, many cases, owing to the installation of power borers, and having received higher earnings than ever before. Not a bad Christmas present."

And in the first issue of the paper after those Christmas holidays, Mr. Williams, the General President of the Miners' Federation, stated:

"The Federation had just passed through a period of the greatest gains in history. It had been estimated that the gains made represented a figure of about 24,500,000."

THE COMMUNIST STATE THROUGH SOCIALISM

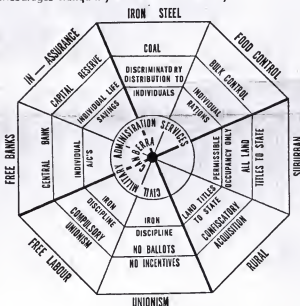

FRAMEWORK — COUNTER-ACTION

"PYRAMIDS OF POWER," converging to absolute control of the machinery of State, illustrate the framework and processes by which a Socialist clique of approximately 3 per cent. of population, plots to control the nation. Steps to power are identifiable making counter-action quite practicable, provided always that Socialism is recognised as a conspiracy to deprive us of property rights and liberty. The Socialist plan to acquire and exploit is based on a scientific study of human weaknesses and, therefore, requires specialised knowledge to identify each move, expose and circumvent it. Communists are entrenched in all politico-industrial groups, progressively gathering strength and consolidating power as outlined in graph.

An EDUCATED PUBLIC OPINION is the urgent need. It shapes the course of political policies, determines the fate of Governments, and encourages tranquility and effort in industry.

The plan for "Socialisation by Stealth" provides for "pressures" applied to private undertakings to encourage "voluntary" submission to nationalisation in all categories, e.g., Coalmines, Grazing Properties, etc. Note: For authoritative elaboration see "The Passing of Parliament," by Prof. C. W. Keeton.

Socialists strive for control of Rank and File workers in industry. Compulsory unionism, ballot perversion, destruction of "mutuality" mediums (incentives, etc.) and regimentation of vote to Socialism, are the instruments.

Steps to power follow four channels — Worker Control, Money Credit, Key Industries, Land and Food Control — converging at apex to absolute control of the individual in all avocations. Boards, authorities, rationing are the instruments. A fear complex descends on the community as reprisals become possible. Share and Land values collapse as confiscatory legislation appears.

Keep the worker free — then ALL are free. Worker appreciation of freedom, expressed through Clean and Secret Ballots, is the obvious antidote to Socialism.

STEPS TO ABSOLUTE POWER

BASIS FOR EXPANDED APPROACH TO SOCIALISM

Recognition that (a) Socialism IS Communism. (b) All Socialists work to a specific plan interpreted by a Central Headquarters. (c) Socialism is a financially strong world organisation, but with weaknesses due to inescapable standardisation. (d) A propaganda "line" paves the way for each step towards centralised power. (e) Accurate identification of any Socialist move requires personally acquired Communist experience added to top-level knowledge of both Unionism and Labor political organisation.

CONCLUSION.—A permanent executive composed of men having these qualifications, plus technical staff, is an essential base for counter-action against Red Socialism. THE PEOPLE'S UNION (Non-Party) fulfils these requirements and has established technical ascendancy over career Communists-Socialists despite the highly departmentalised organisation in which they work.

You Want to Know

Why Coal is Scarce

Australian industries are operating at low pressure because they can't get sufficient coal.
Yet the Coal Miners' Federation boasts of record coal production!

What is the Explanation?

OUTPUT—

Total demand for black coal is about 16 million tons a year.

All time record output was 14.9 million tons in 1942. Output in 1947 just failed to equal the 1942 record.

However, despite increased demand and improved mining technique, output since 1913 has increased comparatively little — that year it was 12.4 million tons. In 1924, output was 13.8 million tons.

BUT in 1942 and 1947 the miners didn't work any harder; they worked their ordinary hours on more of their normal working days; strikes and stoppages were reduced.

Because the Communist Party has cleverly exploited the difficult conditions in the industry, on an average miners work 8 days out of their normal fortnightly maximum of 10 days.

THEREFORE if they worked their normal full time, output would rise to 17 million tons per annum and there would be no coal shortage.

WAGES—

Wage rates in coal mining over the years have been considerably higher than in other industries, but because of intermittent working, earnings have not.

In numerous wage and hours variations since 1914 "concessions have been made to force, . . . political expediency appears to have been their actuating motive."

TRADITIONAL HATRED—

The Coal Industry has a black record of exploitation, hatred and discontent and the Communist Party has exploited this traditional situation.

Commissar Ernie Thornton, writing in the "Communist Review" of July 1948 said:—

"The policy of the Ironworkers' Union is decided in consultation with the Communist Party . . . but the Party does not appear as the Communist Party to the members of the Union . . . the achievements of our (Party) leadership are credited to individuals and not to the Party. The same thing in many ways applies to the . . . Miners' Federation."

So at last the Communist Party boasts of its control over the Coal Miners' Federation.

JOINT COAL BOARD—

The Reds continue to criticise and blame the coal owners for conditions in the coal industry. It is true the owners have a lot to answer for, but today their power has been drastically limited by the Joint Coal Board.

Also responsibility for 70% of the coal being tied up in the "pillars" must be shared by the New South Wales Mines Department.

The Joint Coal Board set up under legislation by the Commonwealth and New South Wales Labor Governments is today the controlling force in the coal industry.

The Communists choose to ignore this and keep harking back to the past. At the same time, they are determined to discredit the Coal Board. IN LESS than two years of operation, the Board has stepped up mechanisation, developed open cut mines, provided amenities, particularly health services, curbed the owners, and arranged the distribution of coal produced.

The Board, representing the public, stands between owners and men. The Miners' Federation in the last resort would do anything rather than have the Governments abolish the Board.

SUBSTITUTES FOR BLACK COAL—

Already the grip of the New South Wales miners on Australia is being weakened. Victoria, Queensland and South Australia are making themselves independent. Brown Coal output has increased to 50% of the total black coal figure.

Hydro-electric schemes are under way. Fuel economies resulting from improved technique in using coal, are reducing the demand for black coal.

These measures will help to nullify the Communist Party's activities, particularly its policy in preventing coal reserves being accumulated so as to hold the public to ransom, to sabotage Australia's production and so weaken Australia as an important member of the Western democracies.

HOW TO SOLVE THE COAL CRISIS—

1. MINERS SHOULD DO A FAIR DAY'S WORK EVERY NORMAL WORKING DAY.
2. INCREASE MECHANISATION.
3. DEVELOP SUBSTITUTES—BROWN COAL, HYDRO-ELECTRICITY; ALSO INCREASE FUEL ECONOMIES.
4. DEVELOP OPEN CUT WORKINGS.
5. NATIONALISE ALL COAL MINES, CONTROL TO BE EXERCISED BY A BOARD EFFECTIVELY REPRESENTING THE MINERS AND THE PUBLIC.
6. ESTABLISH THE "GRAINGER" SCHEME—PART-TIME MINING. PART-TIME HOMESTEAD FARMING—SO AS TO BREAK DOWN THE MINERS' DEPENDENCE ON COAL, AND THEIR ISOLATION FROM THE REST OF THE COMMUNITY.

STOP

THIS WILFUL WASTE OF OUR MONEY!

Central Council has now decided to send Bill Gardner on a tour of all Coalfields AGAIN AT OUR EXPENSE to talk about his trip to China. Central Council made this decision on the CASTING VOTE OF IDRIS WILLIAMS.

Gardner's tour of the Coalfields will cost the Federation at least £1,000. It will probably cost every MINER one day's pay AND HIS ATTENDANCE BONUS.

AND WHAT WILL YOU HEAR? Nothing more than the trumped up story of Communist propagandists and paid interpreters! Gardner does not speak Chinese — you will NOT hear the truth about China.

WHY DID NOT COUNCIL ACCEPT THE AMENDMENT PUT FORWARD BY LABOR COUNCILORS, NAMELY . . . that if any District wanted to hear Gardner, that District could make the arrangements and meet the expenses — FEDERATION FUNDS WILL BE NEEDED FOR THE FUTURE.

There is only one way to STOP this waste. REJECT THE COUNCIL MINUTE on Gardner's tour when it comes before YOUR LODGE.

QUEENSLAND STRIKE

1. The Queensland strike began under non-Communist leadership for legitimate, industrial objectives.
 2. The Comrades stepped in and took control. The Industrial General Staff of Marx House (Rowe, Healy, Brown and Co.) went to Queensland to convert the struggle into a political racket to smash the Queensland Labor Government. The workers were betrayed by Commo Leaders.
 3. The bashing of Comrade Paterson on March 17th was cooked up by the Comrades as part of a desperate plan to spread the strike inter-State. It didn't work; the Comrades overplayed their hand.

THE PRICES DEMONSTRATION

The recent demonstration to the Prices Commissioner in Pitt St. was staged by three Commo controlled phony organisations, the New Housewives' Assn., the University Labor Club and the Eureka Youth League (plus some hefty housewives from the Waterside Workers' Federation). The whole business smells. While howling about high prices to get kudos for themselves, the comrades are systematically sabotaging production in order to make lower prices impossible.

HOTELS

The picketing of hotels and Committees of Inspection to visit cellars is the latest Marx House racket. It follows the usual Commo technique of cashing in on a genuine grievance. This racket has two main objectives—

- (1) a gentle hint to the breweries to chip into Party funds, whereupon picketing will cease.
- (2) organising the sale of bottled beer through select committees, set up by the Unions and Marx House.

You will get a drink if the Comrades like you; if they don't—you go on the water waggon.

"NEWSLETTER"

The sporting paper, "Newsletter", is a Communist Party publication. The Comrades bought it some years ago for a cool £25,000. Why buy the rag? Most of its tips are lousy, anyhow!

FLEECE THE SUCKERS!

In connection with the Queensland strike all sorts of collections are being taken up by the comrades. There is no guarantee whatever that the money will be used to help those in distress and not to pay luxury expenses for the said Comrades. Don't touch any collection list unless it is authorised by the Sydney Trades & Labor Council.

FIFTH COLUMN

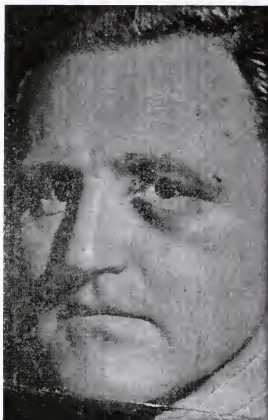

Speaking at the Masonic Hall, Cowra on March 18th, Comrade Freda Brown, Communist Party Organiser, said: "I say that the Communist Party would support Russia if it were fighting a war against America. I would take a stand against Australian soldiers being used by American Imperialism." So Australian soldiers will be stabbed in the back by Red traitors if it comes to a show down with Uncle Joel!

An den Werken der Schriftsteller des XLX. Jahrhunderts

dargelegt von

Dr. Eugen Cosinsky.

I. Die Zerstörung der klassischen Kultur durch die Christen.

„An ihren Früchten sollt ihr sie erkennen.“

Nach der Behauptung mancher moderner Geschichtsschreiber soll mit dem Christenthum jene neue gesellschaftliche Macht erwachsen sein, die in dem allgemeinen Verfall der antiken Gesellschaft rettete, was noch zu retten war, und die schließlich die Reste der römischen Kultur den Germanen übermittelte, wo sie eine neue, höhere Kultur anbahnte. Ganz übereinstimmend damit klingt auch die bekannte Schrift des Papstes Leo XIII. über „Die Kirche und die Zivilisation“, worin es heißt, daß die Geschichte der christlichen Kirche nichts mehr und nichts weniger sei als die Geschichte der Zivilisation. Und ebenso sagt Leo XIII. in seiner Enzyklika über die Arbeiterfrage:

„Die höheren sozialen Kräfte, die der Kirche eigen sind, haben die Menschheit auf die Bahn des wahren Fortschritts erhoben, ja vom Untergange wieder zum Leben erweckt; sie haben durch die christliche Erziehung der Völker eine Entwicklung herbeigeführt, welche alle früheren Kulturformen weit übertrifft und in alle Zukunft nicht durch eine andere übertroffen werden wird.“

Einer der ersten Ansprüche des Christenthums ist also der: einen großen sozialen Fortschritt in den Thatfachen und Ideen hervorzubringen zu haben. ...

Dear Christian Friends:

The whole issue before the world today is clear out. We must choose whether we are to advance according to the ideals of the Christian Gospel, or whether we are to retreat to world slavery according to the doctrines of Karl Marx. That is the all important question of the hour. All other international and national questions depend upon it, and, till it is settled there can be no peace in the world. Sooner or later we must all stand up, both individuals and nations, to be counted. The challenge will be Christ or anti-Christ, Christianity or Communism.

It is with much concern that I must report that during the past few weeks Communism has made great strides throughout the world. We have seen in Hungary this month a red coup not only to seize that nation, but to set a pattern for the communizing of all the Balkan states. In this instance as in others, Stalin has called our bluff and won. It is with deep shame that we must admit that due to our lack of strong Christian Statesmen in Washington, we have recognized the new red government in Hungary, and thereupon have signed the death warrant of thousands of Christian Patriots.

The Truman administration has said a lot, but done so little. It has condemned communism, yet kept a dangerous red on the White House staff. It has warned of a plot to steal the Atom Bomb, then placed the control of the bomb in the hands of Red Lillienthal.

Henry Wallace has become the hero of the Pro-communist element, and the militant leader of a strong leftist political conspiracy, which may sweep our government back into the hands of Roosevelt's Red henchmen. We must not forget that Wallace is one of the heritages left us by Franklin Roosevelt, and the evil tool of those who would destroy America.

These months prior to the 1948 Presidential Campaign will be days of great decisions. America will be choosing leaders - either leaders who will lead us out of the quagmire of Red New Dealism to the solid rock of a Christian Republic, or a leadership which will lower us further into the sinking sands of Atheistic Communism. It therefore becomes our sacred duty to awaken the nation to the challenge of the hour.

During the past month we have been out on the firing-line, awakening the public to the great communist conspiracy in our nation. In Chicago because of pressure brought by the communist party and the anti-Defamation League on the management of the Fine Arts Building, our meeting hall was cancelled at the last moment. We spoke from a table in the hallway, while a mob sought to disrupt the meeting. For 50 minutes we held forth until the management ordered us out of the building. We adjourned in order and with the satisfaction that a moral victory had been won.

On Sunday, June 15th, I had the privilege of addressing two ser-vices in the Truth and Liberty Temple at Minneapolis, Minnesota. From Minneapolis I went to St. Louis to the Christian Nationalist Convention where I addressed a rally on Friday nite.

Title page of the first number of "The GODLESS", in its second year of publication. It portrays a bolshevik communist laboring man climbing the ladder of godlessness, into the heavens, where the galaxy of various deities are enthroned (left to right): Jesus and God of the Christians, Jehovah of the Jews, Allah of the Mohammedans, the Virgin Mary and several other deities and demons. Below the churches and cathedrals are crumbling and falling. The inscription below is: Lord, bless! The inscription above the cartoon reads:

(The Communist speaks): "We have settled with the earthly kings, now we are tackling the heavenly ones". To this the Christian can boldly answer: "Comrade bolshevik: The higher you will climb, the lower you will fall".

The
FRUIT OF MODERNISM

#70

By FRED R. MARVIN

OUR SAVIOUR SAID:

Beware of false prophets, which come to you in sheep's clothing, but inwardly they are ravening wolves.

Ye shall know them by their fruits. Do men gather grapes of thorns, or figs of thistles?

Even so every good tree bringeth forth good fruit; but a corrupt tree bringeth forth evil fruit.

A good tree cannot bring forth evil fruit, neither can a corrupt tree bring forth good fruit.

Every tree that bringeth not forth good fruit is hewn down, and cast into the fire.

Wherefore by their fruits ye shall know them.

Women passed through a harsh experience in 1929-34. They have seen the rise of fascism in European countries which destroyed all the gains women made. In our own country, women see reactionary monopolies attempting to destroy democratic rights of the people. By their increased activities in 1936-38, women in the United States have indicated that they are aware of the need to fight for democracy, that they are organizing against the inequalities of women existing in nearly all phases of life; these inequalities which in themselves are a violation of democracy; they are organizing against the callous indifference to the position of woman and her problems.

In 1936-38 large numbers of women took part in strikes for the recognition of the industrial union; many joined the unions; there were outstanding women's demonstrations for jobs on WPA projects; Negro and white women united on picket lines, demanding jobs for Negro women; in a number of cities, large numbers of Negro women, through their organizations have become part of a united movement for jobs for Negro young women; housewives sent brigades to Washington, demanding increased budgets for the unemployed; the activities of the wives of auto and steel workers in support of trade unions is known nationally. The new trade union auxiliaries are a result of this mass activity. The demonstrations and the picketing of housewives against increased prices for meat, milk, bread, rents and increased gas rates is outstanding. The League of Women Shoppers, a middle class women's organization has increased its organization in 20 cities as a result of its active support of the labor movement, and its monthly magazine.

These activities of the women are all part of the developing progressive movement today.

Other manifestations of women's part in the developing progressive movement, are the women's anti-silk peace parades; their ever widening activities in the boycott of Japanese goods; mother's peace day parades and peace mass meetings, which in 1938 have taken on a mass character, making the communities peace conscious and arousing the community to the necessity for aid to mother and child; the united people's conferences against the high cost of living, the united movement taking in nearly the whole community (in Paterson, N.J.) around issues of interest to working mothers; the broad women's movements for women's and children's all day clinics; the women's activities in support of democratic Spain — the mass women's delegation to Washington demanding the lifting of the embargo and the many sided women's activity in support of the O'Connell peace bill, the day of fasting in support of Loyalist Spain by the women delegates to the YWCA convention.

A series of national conventions of mass women's organizations held in 1938 made keynote speeches against fascism and for democracy. The YWCA convention stressed that Christians must block fascism in the USA; that Nazism in Germany could have been avoided by unity of the people; the League of Women Voters Convention stressed the need to preserve democracy. Convention speeches were publicized attacking the reactionary Supreme Court and supporting the Reorganization Bill. The convention of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, representing nearly two million members, decided to conduct community welfare work around health and other such issues, as part of the human democratic rights of the people. The Jewish women's organizations convention stressed that not Communism, but fascism is the danger today. Over 30 women's organizations in 13 southern states, some representing the entire South, and entire States in the South, adopted resolutions against lynchings. An anti-fascist note was heard even in the DAR convention, when President Roosevelt reminded the delegates that our forefathers threw off a fascist yoke. Even here, there is a growing sentiment against fascism,

We

Women

WE WOMEN of America are faced every day with questions we feel must be answered. No matter where we live or work—in the home, in the shop, on the farm—we're always faced with the why and how of getting along from day to day. Some of us have found the answers to our questions. Some of us know how to solve our problems. Do you?

If we're housewives we see the cost of living going up while pay envelopes lag behind. We know something must be done to keep down the price of food, clothing and rent. Thousands of us know that it is the Communists who are the staunchest supporters in the fight against the high cost of living. Do you?

If we're factory or office workers, salesgirls, waitresses, we know that our wages are too low, our hours too long, that we need vacations, sick leave with pay. We know we need strong unions to win better working conditions. Thousands of us know that Communists are the hardest workers in our unions. Do you?

We women who live on farms look to the Communists to help us out of a life of debt and drudgery. We who have helped our husbands win their strikes know how valuable the Communist workers have been. We who are unemployed are learning that it is the Communists who fight for increased employment, more relief,

PROBLEMS OF NEW YORK JEWRY AND THE TASKS OF THE COMMUNIST PARTY

Resolution Adopted by the New York State Committee,
* Communist Party

FOR PRE-CONVENTION DISCUSSION OF N. Y. PARTY ORGANIZATION

This resolution was adopted after a report on the Jewish question by the New York State Jewish Bureau, C. P., to the New York State Committee, Communist Party, and following a comprehensive discussion by the members of the N. Y. State Committee.

THE GROWTH of fascism is a threat to the immediate existence of millions of Jews throughout the world. Anti-Semitism today is an integral part of every fascist movement in every capitalist country (even in countries with very few Jews) and the growth of reaction has brought untold misery and hardships to the Jews of the world. The place of anti-Semitism in the fascist system is clearly recognized by the Communist International in its listing of the following characteristics of fascism:

"It is a system that resorts to a peculiar form of social demagoguery (anti-Semitism, occasional sorties against usurers' capital and gestures of impatience with the parliamentary 'talking shop') in order to utilize the discontent of the petty bourgeoisie, the intellectuals and other strata of society." (Program of the C. I.)

The struggle for the rights of the Jewish people which are menaced by fascism is organically linked with the struggle against fascism. To fulfill our vanguard role and to carry out the struggle against ALL forms of the fascist offensive and of national oppression it is imperative for us to fight a major expression of fascism, anti-Semitism. Passivity to the struggle against anti-Semitism and the fight for the rights of the Jews is objective support to fascism.

As a result of the international offensive against the Jews the Jewish people today are the natural enemies of fascism and can be readily mobilized into the anti-fascist front. With correct directives the Jewish people can play a great role in the formation of the People's Front in the U. S. A. and a major role in New York.

The two and a quarter million Jews in New York, participating to a great degree in the labor movement and in the political life of the city, are an influential force. There cannot be any successful democratic and progressive movement in New York without the support of at least a substantial part of the Jewish population. We cannot win the support of the Jews for any movement, however, without an understanding of their problems as a national group and without extending our help to the Jews in their struggle against anti-Semitism and national oppression.
